KREG READY WITH BEST OF TALENT

Seven o'clock Announced As Hour for Initial Time For Santa Ana Station ON 1500 KILOCYCLES Regular Program to Be Followed By Ether Frolic On First Entertainment

KREG will go on the air for the first time, officially, at 7 p. m., Thursday.

That definite announcement came this morning from W. Maxwell Burke, manager of the local Pacific-Western Broadcasting federation station, operated as the official voice of The Register.

The formal opening program, which will bring before the microphone many of Santa Ana's and Orange county's most prominent citizens, as well as some of the Southland's premiere radio talent, will be announced in full in Thursday's Register. Ben McGlashan, owner of station KGFJ, in Los Angeles, will be master of ceremonies and announcer on the first night's program.

The program formally introducing KREG to the radio public, Thursday night, will be followed by an "ether frolic," during which much talent, for which there was no time on the dedication broadcast will add a few notes of fun to the night's entertainment.

KREG, "the Voice of the Orange Empire," will transmit on a frequency of 1500 kilocycles, the same location on the dial formerly occupied by KWTC. The station will broadcast on a power of 100 watts. W. H. Earl, of Santa Ana, with many years of marine radio experience to his credit, is operator of KREG.

BANK TELLER'S WIT PREVENTS ROBBERY

LONG BEACH, Dec. 31.—(UP)—A nimble witted bank teller who saved a local branch of the Bank of Italy nearly $3000 in an attempted holdup, was being congratulated by associates here today.

When the robber pointed a gun at his chest and ordered him to fill the bag that was shoved across the counter, Jerry Nistler obeyed.

He put nearly $3000 in currency in the bag, but before it was full, glanced suddenly over the robber's shoulder toward the door, and exclaimed:

"The police are here!"

The would-be robber fled without waiting for the imaginary officers, or the money.

Dog Decides Ownership In Court Suit

The canine went into court as "Kid Jordana," a huge police dog, had his day in court yesterday when he performed tricks at the command of his mistress to settle an argument as to whom he belonged to.

After 15 persons had testified, "Kid Jordana" decided the matter by playing star witness when he did his bag of tricks for Mrs. Brockoff.

OFFICIALS OF OAKLAND SEEK BRUTAL BANDIT

Abducts 19-year-old Girl, Assaults Her and Then Makes His Escape

OAKLAND, Dec. 31.—(UP)—While cars and motorcycles of the Oakland police department combed the hills behind the city for her abductor, a 19-year-old girl was brutally assaulted early today by a man who had kidnapped her at pistol point from an automobile in which she was parked with an Alameda man.

Hysterical from her terrifying experience, the girl, Miss Grace Willett, was able to give police only an incoherent account of what occurred during the three hours she was in the power of her abductor.

Her escort, who was forced to leave his machine by the kidnaper and stand by helplessly while the thug drove away with the young girl, was Glenn W. Grover, 25, of Alameda.

Grover told police that he was parked with Miss Willett on a road behind Piedmont, when a man suddenly came up to the machine, drew a revolver and forced him from the car.

After robbing him of some small change, the bandit ordered him to start the engine of the machine and then to walk down the road.

Constantly menaced by the bandit's revolver, there was nothing to do but comply.

The thug then got into the car beside the terrified girl, whirled the machine about and dashed off into the hills.

Grover hailed another motorist a few minutes later and sped into Oakland to give the alarm.

Within half an hour, police were rushed to the hills and spent hours in searching every bypath and outlying road for the girl and her abductor, but without avail.

After some three hours had elapsed, Miss Willett staggered into the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Willette, and sobbed out her story.

All that the girl was able to tell before being placed under a physician's care, was that the man was about 20 years of age and dressed in dark clothes.

The attack is believed to have occurred in the automobile. The girl stated that she pleaded with her abductor not to harm her, but that despite her protestations she overcame her puny resistance and criminally assaulted her.

This brutal crime, following close upon the double murder of Stanley Montero and Mary Munoz, killed by a moron who planned an assault on the girl, spurred police to make every effort to apprehend the fiend.

Wife's Remarks On Bridge Results In Decree For Hubby

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 31.—(UP)—Whether Roy F. White ever trumped his wife's ace or not, she considered him a poor bridge player and therefore made his life miserable, he told Superior Judge Harry R. Archibald in obtaining a divorce.

"She said I was mentally inferior to her because I could not play bridge as well as she," White testified. "She told our friends that my marriage to her should have made me feel elevated socially and intellectually."

RUSSIANS AID IN SEARCH FOR LOST AVIATORS

Ice Breaker Arrives at Petrovsk and Establishes Base There

JUNEAU, Alaska, Dec. 31.—(UP)—A thrice relayed radio message today brought the news that new Russian aid was available in the search for the missing Alaskan aviators, Carl Ben Eielson and Earl G. Borland.

A Russian icebreaker has arrived at Petrovsk, and has established a base there.

This news was sent by radio to the Russian steamer Stavropol, also icebound near the trader Nank. Captain Milovzorov of the Stavropol relayed the message to the Nank where Pilots Joe Crosson and Harold Gillam have established their base, and the Nank forwarded the information to Juneau.

The Junkers planes carried by the Russian icebreaker will be assembled at Providence Bay, but will not be able to take off in the search until January 18, when the sun again breaks through to end the Arctic darkness.

But the Russian aviators and others accompanying the planes are not remaining idle in the meantime.

Assisted by natives with dog teams, the newly arrived expedition is conducting a land search for the missing aviators, in hopes of locating them before their meagre food supply is exhausted.

Another Russian flyer, Boris Chuknovsky, who aided in the Italia rescue last year, was scheduled to leave Moscow today for Siberia, to take up the search.

Pilots Art Young and Frank Dorland were at Teller and Nome, respectively, awaiting good flying weather, when they too, will throw their energies into the Arctic hunt.

Three Canadian fliers, commanded by Captain "Pat" Reid, were at Fairbanks, and were poised on the deadline with their Fairchild planes, ready for the hop to Teller.

At present the search is centering in the vicinity of Koluchinsk Bay, where natives have reported sighting a plane.

It is hoped that the combined efforts of the American, Canadian, and Russian armies may result in the finding of Eielson and Borland early in the new year.

Fireworks To Be Set Off In Congress Soon

Dry Enforcement Conditions Will Be Aired First Day Senators Gather

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31.—(UP)—Fireworks set off by congressional dries against prohibition enforcement conditions thus far are what is coming when congress reconvenes, Senator Brookhart, Republican, Iowa, said today.

Brookhart intends to direct an attack largely at Secretary of Treasury Mellon, he said.

It also became known today that Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, who charged conditions in enforcement of the liquor permit system amount to a "scandal," had written a letter to President Hoover on the prohibition situation.

Dry critics of prohibition conditions were supported in some respects today by F. Scott McBride, general superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league. He said political pressure from wet senators has forced appointment of federal judges, district attorneys and other officials unsympathetic to prohibition.

Brookhart, who is second only to Borah as a senatorial dry campaigner, said he was armed with material concerning enforcement

REPORTS VARY ON SURPLUS IN STATE'S PURSE

Controller Riley and Gov. Young Issue Statements That Do Not Tally

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 31.—(UP)—Two widely conflicting reports of California's financial condition—one picturing it on the verge of bankruptcy; the other optimistically telling of an overflowing treasury—were given to the voters of California today, at the close of the old year.

Both were by duly constituted state authorities, but the fact that a primary election is only a few months away may account for the difference of opinion.

State Controller Ray L. Riley, candidate for governor, said:

"The state faces a $12,000,000 general fund deficit during the next two years, with the largest surplus in the state's history destroyed. If Governor Young's administration continues its prodigal expenditure of public funds."

A. R. Heron, the governor's financial lieutenant, replied:

"California's treasury shows cash on hand and in banks of $72,000,000. This will be sufficient to meet all probable obligations of the state for the present fiscal year."

Although Governor Young's can-

Convalescence Camp For Former Soldiers Soon To Be Constructed

PURCHASE of the 10-acre tract and recreation camp of the Union Oil company at Huntington Beach by the state society of 40 and 8 for use as a convalescence camp for former soldiers looms as the result of action taken in Los Angeles last night at a meeting of the state executive committee of the organization.

Purchase of the camp was authorized at this meeting after the approval of national and state officials of the organization, and a committee, headed by L. D. Reynolds, of Santa Ana, was appointed to have charge of raising funds for maintenance of the camp after it is purchased. The tract is located at the intersection of Hampshire and Yorktown streets, just outside the city limits of Huntington Beach, and contains equipment is a recreation center for 400 men. It also has barracks that will care for 200 men.

The establishment of a camp at Spring Valley on San Francisco Bay was also authorized at the executive meeting in Los Angeles and plans are being made for the start on both projects.

No equipment available at the northern camp and the site and lumber is being donated by the

MORE THAN 100 INJURED IN PANIC; 69 BODIES ARE RECOVERED BY OFFICIALS

Blaze Breaks Out In Operating Room When 1500 Kiddies Attend Special Holiday Matinee at Paisley

BODIES' PILED UP NEAR DOORS

PAISLEY, Scotland, Dec. 31.—(UP)—Fire broke out today in a cinema theater crowded with 1500 laughing children attending a special holiday matinee. In the ensuing panic and stampede, upwards of 70 young lives were crushed out. Late in the afternoon, 69 bodies had been recovered, it was announced officially. A hundred or more were in hospitals. Firemen still fought to cool the smoldering ruins to search for more bodies.

Paisley's New Year's eve, the great Scotch holiday of the year, was turned into deep tragedy by the disaster. Frantic mothers and fathers waited outside the theater, the Glen Cinema, as the flames mounted, unable to fight their way in to their children.

The casualties overtaxed the city's ambulance service, as broken bodies and children, still living, were slowly dragged out, authorities commanded a street car, into which the dead and living were piled, after which the car clattered through the streets to the Royal Alexandra hospital.

The fire broke out in the operating booth of the theater. As the smell of smoke drifted through the auditorium, the children stampeded with fright.

Apparently they all rushed for the main exits, forgetting those at the side. Consequently, there was a terrible jam.

The children who were in the balcony piled down the stairs on either side and there encountered the stream from the main floor which was jammed in the back.

Bodies of children were found piled six deep at the foot of the balcony stairs.

The children rushed screaming for the exits when the cry of "fire" was raised and a terrible panic ensued. Many were trampled or crushed in the jam at the exits. As smoke filled the hall, the panic and screaming increased.

Fifteen hundred children were in the theater as the fire started in the operator's booth.

When the mad panic started, many of the children were caught in the rush for the exits and jammed hopelessly.

The theater was filled with smoke and fumes. Firemen were forced to don gas masks before they could penetrate the hall.

They found difficulty extricating the children from the piled up masses at the exits.

THUGS SHOOT AND BEAT RECLUSE, 68

OAKLAND, Dec. 31.—(UP)—A shot in the hip and terrible beating about the head failed to force Al Cooper, 68, recluse, to disclose the hiding place of his life savings to thugs last night.

The aged man was in the Oakland emergency hospital today where a neighbor woman took him after being attracted to the recluse's home by the sound of a shot.

Cooper had grappled with the pair of holdup men as one shot him and the other beat him over the head. They fled when he put up such a fight to save his life.

PROMINENT SANTA ANA CITIZENS AND BUSINESS MEN MAKE RESOLUTIONS AS NEW YEAR MAKES APPEARANCE

To paraphrase the sentence used by all aspiring typists, "Now is the time for all men to make their resolutions for the new year." As the last minutes of 1929 tick away many of the leading citizens of the community respond to the urge to meet the challenge of the new year with expressions of determination for personal and civic improvement during 1930, which will be welcomed tonight.

Many of those interviewed on the subject declared that past experience had proven the folly of making resolutions and felt that the label "Fragile" should be attached conspicuously to resolutions such as quitting smoking, saving more money, keeping your temper and betting on ball games.

Some of the resolutions that were made up are listed below:

MURKIN, mayor we've passed resolutions. But here's one to shoot at—to constantly strive to make adequate foundations for the great growth that Santa Ana is bound to experience."

RALPH C. SMEDLEY, president Rotary club—"To help all I can to iron out some of the jogs and rough places that are hindering the growth of the city; to obey all of the 4723 traffic laws; to keep out of the hospital."

MOFFETT RHODES, president Knights of the Round Table—"To play the game of life fairly and to work hard; to do all I can to make the Round Table an even greater factor in community affairs."

MRS. MINNIE MAYHILL, president Business and Professional Women's club—"As a club officer, to be more lenient with the mistakes of others. Personally, never to make another resolution."

HERB ALLEMAN, president of Santa Ana Realty Board—"To make the Santa Ana Realty Board the best one in Southern California."

MRS. ROBERT TUTHILL, president Ebull club—"To make the Ebull club an even greater factor in the life of the community through larger membership and a more comprehensive program."

W. C. JEROME, county auditor—"To try to do the same as I have in the past."

EARL RUDDY, secretary Business Men's association—"To work harder, to earn more money, to buy more bread, to get stronger to work harder, to earn more money, to buy more bread."

J. M. BACKS, county clerk—"To continue giving service to the public and to try to make the registration go over the $500,000 mark this year."

MRS. RAY A. SPANGLER, Fourth District vice president, Parent-Teacher association—"To do all the good I can for the betterment of child welfare work."

A. N. ZERMAN, Community Chest worker—"To make better resolutions and stick to them. My biggest one is to live better and to be more careful in business methods."

GEORGE RAYMER, secretary chamber of commerce—"To keep the chamber hitting on all 12 cylinders in all 12 months of 1930 in every line of community activity. Personally to do bigger and better things for Santa Ana more efficiently than ever before."

GEORGE BOYD, jr.—"Not to take any more with any of my rap on the head than enough."

conditions which he intends to present when the senate again convenes, January 6. It was Brookhart who revealed in a senate speech details of an alleged "Wall Street liquor party" attended by several senators.

"Secretary Mellon ought to be removed," Brookhart said. "He lacks any sympathy with the prohibition law."

"Federal judges should be called upon to enforce the law and bring district attorneys to time. The judges should get after all the district attorneys who are not doing their duty in enforcing the law in their districts."

"The country is out of patience with the present enforcement methods and we are going to see that we have genuine enforcement. Make no mistake about that. I have been trying to help matters along because I thought everything was in good faith here, but information which has come to me and circumstances which have been forced on me so strongly of late, have made me feel different about it."

Brookhart joined Borah as another day passed without answer to Borah's threefold charges, (1) that the enforcement personnel needs varying from top to bottom; (2) that practically open saloons are running throughout the country, and (3) that the alcohol permit system in the treasury amounts to a scandal.

JAIL IS PATROLLED AFTER DRUG RIOT

PHOENIX, Ariz., Dec. 31.—(UP)—After a night of patrolling the county jail with sawed off shotguns, authorities today sought the source of the Mexican drug marijuana believed to have given incentive to a riot among prisoners.

L. H. Martin and Dewey Johnson, both prisoners, were wounded by bullets fired by Jailer M. R. Chumley in quelling the riot, which occurred yesterday.

The drug is believed to have been smuggled into the jail by means of strings let down from an outside window.

With an armed patrol stationed around the jail with riot guns, Sheriff C. L. Wright declared last night that from now on no food other than meals provided by the county will be allowed the prisoners, and only attorneys will be permitted entrance to the cells.

By the same act, Judge Ruiz was deprived of immunity from arrest which is usually accorded members of the judiciary. Mexicali authorities were notified to apprehend him immediately.

Included in the personnel of the committee appointed yesterday to look after the raising of the maintenance fund is G. Walter Bowen, of Huntington Beach. Other members of the committee are George Moulton, state chief of state of San Diego; R. E. Dinsmore, Riverside; Rex Whittemore, Pomona; Ray Carlisle, Bakersfield; Joe Plank, Los Angeles, and Frank Mallon, San Diego.

The site at Huntington Beach was inspected Sunday by national officers of the 40 and 8 on the invitation of Bowen. The site provides a recreation hall, dining room, tennis courts and cottages in addition to the barracks.

BODY OF CHICAGO BANDIT DISCOVERED

CHICAGO, Dec. 31.—(UP)—Discovery of the body of an unidentified man in a north side alley today led police to believe Patrolman Michael Langan "got his man" before being shot to death last night in a north side saloon. Langan, just back on the force after an attack of influenza, battled four bandits in the saloon but was killed. Before he died he said he believed he had wounded one of the bandits who tried to hold up the saloon.

Early today a passerby noticed a body covered with an overcoat in an alley near the saloon.

Rancher and Wife Face Charges For Shooting Officer

NAPA, Calif., Dec. 31.—(UP)—While Romert Freeman, federal prohibition agent, remained in a critical condition at a local hospital with bullet wounds inflicted by John South during a raid at the South ranch near Yountville Sunday, federal and police authorities were preparing to prosecute South and his wife.

Charges of violation of the national prohibition law and of assaulting a federal agent were filed by William Walker, chief enforcement official, while police prepared to prosecute the couple on charges of assault with intent to commit murder and assault with a deadly weapon.

Freeman, whose young wife is at his bedside, is conceded only an even chance for life by the physicians.

didacy has been understood for some time, his close advisors predict it will be formally announced within a few weeks, in order that the executive may reply in person to the attacks made by the state controller.

Riley went a step further in his allegations and said "if the present administration is allowed another term in office to work out its visionary experiments in bureaucracy, any impartial auditor can read the handwriting on the wall. An additional state tax levy will be inevitable."

When Governor Young took office, he inherited a tremendous general fund totalling approximately $21,000,000, Riley said. During the present two years, he continued, "our audit shows that $20,480,741.31 of this surplus must be withdrawn to meet the excess of expenditures over income, leaving but $10,908,018 in reserve to start the new biennium."

"Any private business which thus cuts into its capital to meet running expenses would be headed straight for bankruptcy. Another budget such as the last, with the same ratio of increase, will destroy the last vestige of general fund reserve and give us in its stead a deficit of $12,384,385.62."

To this assertion, director Heron replied: "Governor Young, on entering office in January, 1927, found a general fund surplus of approximately $20,000,000, largely the result of delayed collections of the King tax bill revenues."

"This surplus was considerably built up during his first two years in office. The legislature in 1929 effected two major reductions in state tax rates recommended by Controller Riley, lowering estimated revenues of the next two years by several million dollars. The second was the new bank and corporation tax law, effecting considerable reductions to the corporations concerned, but at the same time saving over $20,000,000 of state revenues endangered by legislation or previous years fund invalid."

MARRIAGES IN L. A. EXCEED DIVORCES

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 31.—(UP)—Marriages led divorces, annulments and separations just about 2 to 1 in Los Angeles county during 1929.

Official figures released today by the marriage license bureau showed that 20,198 applications were made for marriage licenses. Of this number 911 couples changed their minds and failed to return for the permits.

Divorce, annulment and separate maintenance actions filed totaled 10,074.

As compared with 1928, marriages showed an increase of 14.6 per cent and separations of one kind or another an increase of 2.2 per cent.

FOREIGN TRADE OF U. S. IN BIG GAIN

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31.—(UP)—Record breaking foreign trade figures, surpassing even the shipments during and immediately after the World war, were reported today for 1929 by William L. Cooper, director of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce of the department of commerce.

Reviewing the past year's accomplishments in the field of international trade, Cooper's statement showed both exports and imports to be well in excess of the preceding year. The United States was closing the old year with a favorable trade balance of nearly $7,000,000,000.

600,000 BUSHELS OF GRAIN BURNED

CHICAGO, Dec. 31.—(UP)—Smoke curled today from the ruins of a huge warehouse which, with 600,000 bushels of stored grain, melted before a spectacular fire yesterday that defied efforts of 60 fire companies for five hours and did more than $1,000,000 damage.

An odor like that of burnt toast was noticeable over a large part of the south side and dozens of houses were still being poured with water over the smoldering ruins. Three warehouse workers, among nine in the seven-story elevator owned by Albert Schwill and company, when the flames burst out, were in hospitals, suffering from burns received when they fought the first onrush of the blaze, supposedly started by spontaneous combustion.

LIFE JOKE TO BOY; ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

SAN DIMAS, Calif., Dec. 31.—Life was a joke to 15-year-old Raymond James Chavez and he hated to go to school so this morning he attempted to commit suicide.

His parents found him in the bathroom of their home bleeding from a serious gunshot wound and clutching the following note:

"Well, goodbye, mum and paw. Tell Gran and all the rest I said goodbye and wish you all the best wishes. I think it was all for the best and I hate to go to school so, goodbye, with love to you all. The last few weeks of life has been a joke to me."

Young Chavez was removed to a hospital in a critical condition.

$300,000 DAMAGE CAUSED BY BLAZE

SANTA PAULA, Calif., Dec. 31.—(UP)—Three buildings in the business section here were destroyed early today by fire which for a time threatened the entire downtown district. Loss was estimated in excess of $300,000.

The fire, of unknown origin, started in the rear of the King furniture store, operated by W. L. King, fire chief. The building was destroyed.

The Goodyear Jewelry company and the White Music company also were destroyed before the blaze could be brought under control by the combined efforts of the local fire department, the Ventura department and county forces.

HEALTH BUREAU SEEKS TO FIND RADIUM EFFECT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31.—(UP)—Studies to determine the effect upon workers of exposure to radium rays have been extended to the mid-west by the U. S. Public Health Service.

More than 200 women clock factory employees in the vicinity of New York City already have been examined by scientific investigators of the service.

Using specially developed apparatus, the investigators have detected each worker to a searching examination that is expected, after X-ray plates have been developed, to disclose the slightest trace of radium.

It will require several months, Dr. L. R. Thompson, who is directing the inquiry for the health service, said today, to complete study of the plates obtained by the field workers and prepare the results of their study for publication.

The study is the most exhaustive ever undertaken to determine how radium rays affect workers who come into intimate contact with them. Five New Jersey women and a number of workers elsewhere have been stricken after exposure to radium rays in clock factories and several deaths have resulted.

Dr. Thompson explained the health service has decided to expand its inquiry to Illinois in order to obtain data that will be as complete as possible. Results of the survey are expected to be of invaluable aid to science in treating radium patients in the future.

Women workers in clock factories whom the investigation discloses to be infected with the penetrating radium rays will be removed to other employment.

ORANGE COUNTY APPREHENSIVE OVER PROGRAM

Orange county officials and residents throughout this district interested in the water conservation problem facing this area were expressing considerable apprehension over the reported plan of the Long Beach city council to purchase a large water bearing acreage near the old Los Alamitos sugar factory. It is reported that Long Beach has been attempting to buy a strip one-quarter of a mile wide and three miles long in order to increase its water supply.

The land involved is said to include property of the Farmers' Gun club, what is known as the Gus Hanson property and land in the Wall estate.

Proof that the area is productive of water in large quantities at lower levels was established by old sugar factory wells, which were drilled to a depth of 1200 feet, it is said.

That acquisition of this land and draining it of water to supply the city of Long Beach would seriously impair the water supply of Orange county and jeopardize its future agricultural development was admitted today by those who discussed the situation.

Whether this county could protect its water supply arising in the western area is a question which was being considered today in many sources. It has been pointed out that the city of Los Angeles has been able to secure large supplies of water from Inyo county. On the other hand the fact that Orange county has been organized into a water conservation district and thus has established the fact that it is in need of all the water that can be developed within its borders is said to be a strong foundation for any attempt to retain the water in this region.

According to an editorial in the Buena Park News, the land under consideration is just south of Ball road. The editorial said in part: "If Long Beach purchases the lands and attempts to carry the water out of the county, there is unlimited chance of litigation, which will be expensive to the taxpayers of the county and may cause them to lose the most valuable source of water supply, that of the percolating waters which flow to a depth of at least 1400 feet underground."

SPEAKING OF SHIPWRECKS—

The fury of the unrelenting gales which paralyzed shipping along the western coast of Europe, wrecking scores of vessels and causing heavy loss of life is strikingly indicated by these pictures showing three of the ships driven aground in southern England. At the top you see the four-masted Norwegian barque Mogens Koch, after high seas had hurled it ashore near Cuckmere. In the center, battered by mountainous waves, the wreck of the Rotterdam steamer Merwede is seen after its crew had been rescued by life-lines shot from shore by rockets. 'GREEN' S. A. POLICE HEAD ANNOYS TRAMP

Harry Baker, Bakersfield tramp, hasn't much use for police officers who are "green."

Baker was being questioned in police station yesterday afternoon, following his arrest for begging on the street. Sid Smithwick, assistant chief of police, who starts his sixteenth year on the department tomorrow, asked about a number of famous characters of Bakersfield back in the old days. Baker knew them all.

In fact, the two talked for some time of the old days in Bakersfield. As the prisoner was being led out of the station he turned to one of the officers and said: "That was a fresh guy. Guess he ain't been on the force long."

In police court this morning Baker admitted that he had been a tramp for the past 30 years. "Well, not much use trying to reform you. Thirty days suspended, provided you'll get out of town," said the court. "I'll never come back," Baker replied.

Interesting Trip Told Members Of Club

Members of the Business and Professional Women's club of Santa Ana responded to the spirit of wanderlust introduced at the luncheon in St. Ann's inn yesterday noon when L. G. Swales, speaker of the day, captained them on a verbal voyage to San Clemente island.

Stating that it is not necessary to go far away to find scenes of interest, Swales, who has had the good fortune to sail different streams for many years and who in his voyages has visited all the channel islands off the coast from Point Conception to the Mexican border, conducted the women on a most interesting trip.

"We embark from Balboa in a sailing vessel shortly after the trade wind comes up at 2 or 3 o'clock, so that we will be laying off the coast of San Clemente island at daybreak. Our so'west course takes us within 12 miles of the very eastern point of Catalina island. Just off the headland of Catalina we often wonder just how the sailor finds his way and as we pass the point we meet what is known as the 'ocean roll'."

In mentioning the voyage itself, Mr. Swales said that never do the stars seem so brilliant, or the moon so lovely as when it sheds a silvery shimmer over the waters. The schools of dolphins jumping gracefully in and out of the water, were other evidences of the beauty to be seen when sailing.

"A shore wind takes us into anchorage at Smuggler's cove, which is shaped like a half moon," Swales declared. "Here we wonder how to land in the rolling surf, but we row in to the edge of a breaker—they usually run in triplets—and after the third highest roll, we row into shore keeping the dingy straight."

"We notice first on the island, the complete absence of weeds, but that all the cooves have masses of the iodine kelp growing about them. The island we remember is 63 miles off our coast. Visiting China Point we find that it is a territory of about 75 acres of black boulders, varying in size from the shape of a head to a probable ton in weight. It is a most curious arrangement."

"Another curious feature of the island is the fact that though it is 63 miles off our coast there are more humming birds on the island than anywhere in the United States."

"There are only five persons living on the island, which is owned by the government and leased to a wool company. The sheep herder's cabin, a windmill and a fig tree are the only signs of habitation on the shore. There are about 20,000 head of sheep on the island."

Mr. Swales also told of the westshore run, the marine gardens, and the curious fish, Galleguer's cove, the sea walls and the weird racket made by loons and big seals at night.

Preceding the interesting address given by the prominent Santa Ana man, Miss Frances Schweitzer of Pomona college, told the women something of the campus life and value of the educational opportunities afforded through the student loan fund.

Mrs. Minnie Mayhill, president, informally told the women of the success of the Christmas party staged by them for the elderly women of Santa Ana.

STATE ELECTION PETITIONS WILL BE READY SOON

With the coming of the new year and with the campaign for registration of voters which will start in Orange county immediately after January 1, will also come the circulation of a number of initiative petitions to place measures on the ballot for the state elections of this year.

County Clerk J. M. Backs pointed out today that in order to sign any of these petitions, or in other words to place a measure on the ballot for the August primary and the November general election of 1930, every voter in Orange county must register after January 1.

Backs called attention to one of these initiative measures, the proposed permanent registration act, which has been defeated in several state legislatures in California. The new act, Backs explained, is designed to give permanent registration to a voter only in case he votes. His registration is cancelled automatically if he fails to vote. Also the voter loses his permanent registration if he changes his place of residence.

The county clerk called attention to the fact that the County Clerk's Association of California is opposed to this measure and recalled an address on the subject delivered at the last convention of the association by Deputy County Clerk Frank W. Hogan, of Santa Clara county.

It has been argued that permanent registration would result in great economies, Backs said, but pointed out that Hogan's address apparently refuted these arguments. Hogan declared that even with permanent registration it would be necessary to re-register 70 per cent of the voters every two years. This condition would be brought about by the fact that many voters do not cast ballots at every election and by the further fact that changes of residence are a great deal more frequent than the ordinary person realizes. All these voters would have to register again, just as they do under the present law, it was explained. For instance, in Orange county at the last general election there were 51,097 voters qualified to cast ballots but the number which actually went to the polls was 50,816. Changes of residence would disqualify a great number of other voters who would have to register again. Thus, it is pointed out, the economy of permanent registration is doubtful.

Showing that many voters do change their residences during a two-year period, Backs called attention to a statement in Hogan's address, in which he was comparing a new registration list with the one of two years previous.

"Official figures in the county clerk's offices of Alameda and Santa Clara counties, covering numerous precincts at random... show 60 per cent of the names are not on the new register," Hogan said.

Hogan also stated that the experience of directory publishers showed that about 60 per cent of the names change each year. Coupled with failure of many voters to cast ballots, this condition would make it necessary to re-register approximately 70 per cent of the voters every two years, it is argued.

"Would the saving of less than 30 per cent of the registration list offset or justify the very great and apparent risk of holding many dead names on the register with the resultant and ensuing fraudulent voting of many of these obsolete names at the next election?" Hogan asked.

The present law provides for a new, clean registration every two years, which is said to provide 80 per cent registration and if the work is honestly conducted the danger of names of unqualified voters remaining on the list is negligible, Backs said. It is far less inconvenient to the people every two years than to ask each one of the people to come to the registrar every time he moves or fails to vote, he declared.

Backs expects the registration list in Orange county to reach 55,000 this year as a result of population growth. Every voter must state his party when registering if he wishes to vote at the party primaries in August, he said.

BIRTHDAY OBSERVED

PLACENTIA, Dec. 31.—Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Rouse, of Valencia avenue, entertained with a birthday dinner Sunday noon in observance of the 18th anniversary of their son, Paul. The guests gathered in the absence of Paul, and surprised him on his return. Those present were the Misses Lila and Georgia Borden, Miss Marie Grammar, Miss Dorothy Copeland, Harry Stewart, Arthur Fox, Homer Copeland, Don Milligan and Mrs. and Mrs. Rouse.

REVIVAL WILL COME TO CLOSE ON WEDNESDAY

The Rev. U. E. Harding, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, spoke at the Sunday service on "Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow." Using as a text Phil. 3:13, he said in part:

"We are standing in the shadows of a dying year, a few more hours and the calendars with checked dates and days will be taken from the wall. We will fold up and file away the records of another year, and pass another milestone of our brief stay here."

"Let us take a parting glance into the yesterdays. Just as large corporations and companies take an invoice, let us take an inventory of the past. What about the year just closing? Did you lead anyone to Christ? Were you as loyal to Christ and His church as you should have been? Were you as spiritual as you might have been? If not, why not?"

"Let us not pine over the past. Charge it off of the books now, your blunders and mistakes, charge it to a part of your educational fund, and press forward."

"The best way to redeem the lost past is to redeem the present. We are living in an age of rush and rustle; if you lose a day now you will never catch up. Don't fret over what you might have done, it is too late now, forget it. Act now, let another day, or year, get away from you. Don't borrow trouble from tomorrow."

"As you build today, you build for tomorrow and for others. If you have tasks, face them. Pray for strength equal to your tasks. Remember God would rather give you strength than to answer a weakling's prayer. Lift the sights on your gun, enlarge your vision, forget the past with its victories and defeats, press on toward the goal. Only those who attempt great things for God, have a right to expect great things from God. If someone calls you a builder of air castles, remember that they who build no air castles build no castle."

The revival campaign which has been in progress for the past six weeks is announced to close with Wednesday night service. Tonight the Rev. Mr. Harding will tell the story of his life in answer to many requests. His subject will be "How I Handled My Three Handicaps." Earle F. Wilde, radio and phonograph artist, will remain until the close of the campaign and will render special music at each service. Mr. Wilde will go from here to Long Beach, where he will assist in meetings at the First Church of the Nazarene of that city. The Rev. Charles A. Dunaway of Atlanta, Ga., will be the evangelist.

'PINAFORE' TO BE PRESENTED TONIGHT BY KNX

Popular demand has recalled a group of singers who recently scored a hit in "Robin Hood," old time light opera sung over Paramount Pictures-Los Angeles Evening Express studio KNX. Now the same players are to do "Pinafore," one of the most popular of all of the tuneful operas written by Gilbert and Sullivan. It will be radioed New Year's night, between 9 and 10 o'clock, over KNX, sponsored by Sears, Roebuck and company.

The story of "Pinafore" was particularly satirical and pointed directly at the British "navy." It was intended to show how the "Queen of the Seas" was losing her power because of inefficiency. The commander of the "queen's navy" tells in rollicking song how he started out as cabin boy and "polished up my knocker so careful-ee 'Til now I'm commander of the 'queen's navy-ee'."

The thrust went home and resulted in a deck swabbing as it were. But long after that epoch in Great Britain's naval history was forgotten, the music and story of Pinafore persisted.

There of course must be a love story in such a pretty thing. It in this instance involves Josephine, the captain's lovely daughter, and Ralph Rackstraw, common sailor. The feminine role is to be sung by Bascha Malinoff and the heroic tenor will be William Wheatley. For the "Jonah" role of Dick Deadeye, (dislike a sailor) Armand Girard has been chosen, while Rosalie Barker Frye will sing "Buttercup" and Dick Hart will portray the role of Sir Joseph Porter.

The court's calendar will be called at least once each month and twice a month if congestion is not too great, it was announced. Justice Charles Barnard, the third justice, has been in Fresno for several days.

Burns, and five brothers and sisters at the intersection of Huntington Beach boulevard and Glencoe avenue, north of Wintersburg.

He was almost instantly killed when thrown through the windshield of his car Saturday night, after it struck an obstacle in the road at Signal Hill and went out of control.

Following the funeral services at Huntington Beach interment will be made at Central Memorial park at Midway City.

they were off. Indigestion, constipation and headaches worried me continually, and sometimes at my bridge club I'd get so weak I'd have to quit playing. I was terribly weak and nervous and three months ago I was flat on my back in bed. Six bottles of Sargol took me right out of bed and strengthened and invigorated my whole system. My appetite is fine, the indigestion is over, I've gained 15 pounds and feel like a different person! Sargol Pills toned up my liver and overcame my chronic constipation. The headaches and dizzy spells are things of the past. I cannot say too much for this wonderful treatment.—Mrs. Elizabeth Barry, Healdsburg.

HAVELIN AND YODER TO WORK GRID CLASSIC

Graham McNamee, veteran sports announcer; Lloyd E. Yoder, former All-American tackle, and Carl Haverlin, internationally known athlete have been selected to announce the annual Intercollegiate classic between the University of Pittsburgh and the University of Southern California at the Pasadena Rose Bowl, tomorrow.

This announcement came today from the National Broadcasting company, which will offer the game through the coast-to-coast network of NBC, including KFI.

Yoder and Haverlin will be heard with McNamee, NBC New York, who comes to the Pacific coast to handle the descriptive material attendant to the game. McNamee will be heard a half-hour before the kickoff and between halves.

Behind the microphone at the kickoff, Yoder will describe the first and third quarter plays and Haverlin is scheduled to take over the instrument for the second and fourth quarters.

All three of the NBC announcers chosen to broadcast the annual classic are known to the nationwide audience of the NBC.

Selection of Yoder came specially because of his contact with the Pittsburgh Panthers during his athletic career with the Carnegie Tech Tartans.

Haverlin, commercial manager of KFI, Los Angeles, has been broadcasting University of Southern California games consistently since 1925.

The nation-wide broadcast is scheduled to begin at 1:30 p. m. Pacific standard time, with McNamee at the microphone.
